If you are trying to find ways to boost the eco-credentials of your projects then look no further than MFC. A key product in the EGGER Decorative Collection, MFC is the right choice for those looking for a surface that meets the demands of an interior without compromising on the finish. It provides a realistic, durable and versatile surface that can be used across multiple applications.
MFC creates a design statement that is robust and functional. This is often difficult to achieve with alternative materials, but thanks to the flexible and hardwearing surface design aspirations can be met

Thanks to its chipboard core, MFC stores more carbon than is required to produce it. This results in a carbon negative decorative surface that contributes towards net zero.

Take a closer look the Environmental Product, Environmental Health and Technical Datasheets for MFC to see how it can benefit your projects.
